The Class of '63 is happy to present to you Wally Beaman who will guide you through the sections of this book. Wally is a fellow classmate of yours, a conscientious student, a one time president of our class, and an occasional visitor to the 2:20 study hall. Wally carries the key which has been hidden in a heavily guarded vault for six years to unlock the doors to memory.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1963, wish to dedicate our edition of the Lion's Roar to a man who helped us through many difficult times. He has unselfishly given of his time in the planning and preparation of all our class functions. The hours he has spent in our behalf working on the Junior Prom, the Senior Ball, the Class Play, and our other activities will always be an inspiration to us.

In fond appreciation of all you have done for us, we express our warmest thanks to you, Mr. Phelps.

CHARLES N. LaPRADE, Principal

The Class of 1963
West Boylston Junior-Senior High School
West Boylston, Massachusetts

At this memorable milestone in your progress through the span of life, it give me a great deal of pleasure to offer my congratulations on your successful completion of your secondary school education.

Since this school opened in 1957, the class of 1963 is the first to have completed six years here. Certainly, we are extremely proud of you and have the utmost faith and confidence that you will represent the school in a manner that will reflect great credit to all who have been associated with you.

The field of education has many rewards. Undoubtedly one of the most gratifying is to have a class represent its school ably and well. May I point out without the usual graduation platitutes that life will indeed be a challenge... but in the difficulties that will eventuate for you, life will be made more successful if one of your guideposts will be always a concern for your fellowman - a concern that brings out the qualities of kindness and consideration. For in the final analysis, it is not education itself that makes one a truly good person; it is the manner in which he uses it.

On behalf of the faculty of the West Boylston Junior-Senior High School, I would like to wish you "bon voyage" and best wishes in the future.

ACT I
FRESHMEN 1959-1960
"Infancy"

The fall of 1959 marked the beginning of one of the greatest periods of our lives —High School. The first day brought us face to face with many students from Boylston who would spend the next four years with us working in this important era.

To show our faith in these new students, we elected John Peterson class president. Carl Fallavollita, Sharon Hilton, Norma Newcomb, and Barbara Huke also served as officers.

One of the greatest honors given to our class was the opportunity to welcome Renate Brand, a German exchange student, into our class for a year. After the enjoyment we received in knowing Renate and in trying to help her learn English, we were sorry to see her return to her homeland.

The Freshman class took great interest in the sports field, too, and we were well represented in each sport. Among the participants were: Gail Vickery, Chris Bjurling, Dave Saari, Ken Quist, Meredith Doe, Sandra Hyde, Susan Maddocks, and Barbara Taggert.

A highlight of the year was the trip to Boston to see Ben-Hur. Mr. Davis and Mrs. Vinton joined their history classes for this migration eastward—truly an heroic undertaking. Encouraged by the response to this trip, Mr. Davis also succeeding in making it possible for many of us to visit the Worcester Art Museum to view the Roman Collection of artifacts.

In this first year of high school, we felt we must leave a mark to be aimed at by all succeeding generations. As a result, we attempted one of the first minstrel shows ever presented in this school—the BOWEBO. This program was so well received, we nearly went on tour with the show. School, however, was the important thing and ahead of us lay a promising year as Sophomores.

ACT II
SOPHOMORES 1960-1961
"Youth"

Once again the class of 1963 returned to West Boylston High School with plans for an active year. New faces seen in the corridors included Sophia Hill and Wendy Howard. We also welcomed Sharron Macklin back after a four-year absence.

Class members from Boylston held five of the six offices that year. Among those elected were: Bob Turner, Jo Sanborn, Barbara Taggert, Joan Slack, and David Saari. Barbara Huke was the only West Boylstonite to win an office as one of the Student Council Representatives.

Sports also played a big part in the activities of the Sophomore class when twenty-four members made the teams.

Another high spot in the course of events was the arrival of the man from Balfour Jewelers. His arrival meant many hours of work by members of the class who had to earn the money to buy a ring.

We also sponsored the Veterans Day Assembly and, to boost the social morale of the school, we sponsored a number of record hops.

That year, however, was tame in comparison to the year which was to follow.

ACT III
JUNIORS 1961-1962
"Middle Age"

The new year brought a number of changes. Mr. La Prade became the school principal and with him came some new ideas.

One of these new ideas was election campaigns. Candidates running for office had to have a nomination paper signed by at least fifteen students who promised to back him. Then posters and slogans appeared in the corridors. At the peak of the campaign, a rally was held. At this time the prospective candidates gave speeches—some humorous, some pompous, some serious, and some not so humorous—on their plans and ideas. Out of the many who ran for office, Bob Turner, Barbara Huke, Sharon Hilton, Cheryl Lutka, Gail Vickery, and Bob Uljua were successful.

The big social event of the year was the Junior Prom—Bali-Hai. Danna Gates opened her house for our use while making the decorations. Unfortunately, the room lacked heat and a mess ensued when the paste froze as brave volunteers worked on the palm trees. Feet, fingers, and noses suffered. The quick thinking of Danna, Gail Vickery, and Sharron Macklin saved the day when they thought of heating the paste. Nevertheless, despite the hardships and long hours spent, the Prom was a success.

The new literary magazine, THE QUILL, appeared during the year with creative work from a number of our class members—Barbara Andreasen, Joyce Sabulis, Barbara Taggert, and Maryhelen Hendrickson.

The Drama Society produced three one-act plays. The boys from our ranks, Don Roseberry and Lester Lacki, starred in "If Men Played Cards As Women Do." Anne Dionne starred in "Joan Of Arc."

Ronald Robinson and Martha Kastberg were chosen as Boys' and Girls' State Representatives by the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Many new people were admitted into our number that fall. Barbara Andreasen, Joanna Kulis, Janet Spidle, Janet Kelley, and Joseph Kelly made up this group.

All in all, that was a very successful year but the very best time of all was to come.

ACT IV
SENIORS 1962-1963
"Living on Borrowed Time"

As the class of 1963 returned to the school for its last year there, the first task was to welcome Carole Carlson back to our midst. Our next job was to congratulate the new officers—Bob Turner, Sharon Hilton, Cheryl Lutka, Sharron Macklin, Barbara Huke and Bob Uljua.

Sharon Hilton and Maryhelen Hendrickson became the editors of the yearbook and Gail Vickery and Ronald Robinson were chosen as business managers. The difficult task of selling ads began immediately.

The Senior Ball was held just before Thanksgiving. Once again we were indebted to Danna Gates for opening her home for our use and to Mr. Harold Vickery who contributed his time, effort and ingenuity to this dance.

Sports played an important role in senior activities. We were well represented by four of our classmates—Joe Kelly, Ron Robinson, Don Roselund, and Richard Magdziarz who helped bring W.B. into a runner-up position at the Clark Tournament.

In the fall, work began on the school play "YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU." Ellen Burke, Anne Dionne, John Peterson played the leads, with Mr. Gaumond directing and Susan Maddocks as student director. The whole class worked hard to make the play a success.

And now, with our last few months before us, we wish to thank everyone who has helped us in the past four years, especially Mr. Lepore and our class advisors who spent so much time with us.

CLASS PROPHECY '63

Time: 1973
Place: Danna Gates'

The reunion of 1973 was greatly anticipated by the alumni of the class of 1963 of West Boylston High. This great event which was being held at the home of Danna Gates brought forth full attendance.

Upon arriving, we were greeted by Barbara Andreason and Ray Fortin. They asked their classmates to step into the adjoining room to see an invention which they had perfected. Rather than stepping into a room, we found ourselves in their invention—a time machine. They stood grinning outside as they set the dial to 1840—destination, Tucson, Arizona. During the terrific blast from the take-off, Richard Hughes tripped over his shoelace and stumbled out the door. At the sight of Richard's departure, Linda St. Denis turned quickly in horror, only to trip over Richard Magdiarz, knocking Ethel Foster against Teresa Tambolleo, who in turn bumped Sandra Hyde, thus starting a chain reaction. Joan Howard then fainted into Pauline Warren's arms. Pauline then lowered her to the floor, and she and Karen Baguskas brought her to since they both were nurses.

After a short period of time the machine landed in Tucson, just in time to witness Marshal Earp's victory over an Indian raid. Jon Hager, first to emerge from the contraption, sensed the Indian's predicament, gave a blood-curdling cry and rushed to their aid. They immediately refused him, for they were Apaches.

After overcoming the shock of the new environment, the rest of the class emerged from the capsule. Before long they set out looking for excitement or a western job, which they had all heard of in books and movies but never dreamed they would actually live in 1840.

Gerry Chever, Dave Blake, Jon Ekblom and Don Roseberry did not fail to notice the welcoming atmosphere of the Black Cat saloon. They were directly followed by Norma Newcomb, Lee Erickson, Cheryl Sibley, Pat Brigham, and Sue Schlicker, who were seeking the attractive employment as chorus girls, and Anne Dionne who wanted to try her hand at western acting. Carl Fallavollita and John Peterson were strolling down the wooden sidewalk and taking in the sights. As they approached the swinging doors of the saloon, John immediately noticed something missing. He entered and made his way through the smoke-filled room to the piano and played Beethoven's 5th Symphony. Meanwhile Carl was approached by Doc Holliday who, in a drunken rage, swung viciously at him. Carl ducked and laid Doc flat with one punch. He then crossed the room to the poker table, joining Wayne McGuiggan, John Pasquale, Peter Pitro, and Earl Merrill who were enthusiastically engrossed in a rip-roaring poker game.

Upon seeing Doc lying helplessy on the floor, John Decrow nonchalantly walked over to him, thrust him on his shoulders and took him to the doctor's. As we followed John out to the dusty streets, we were just in time to witness a showdown between Michael

J. Mulryan and Tom Sheldon over Diane Nolan. Slowly they paced off the distance between them. They both drew, but Tom shot off his mouth instead of his gun. Mike laughed so hard that he accidentally pulled the trigger and shot off the toe of his shoe. Jeanette Wilmot, being a nurse and seeing the stupid bungle, rushed to his aid. Joyce Sabulis, a bystander, hurried to the newspaper office to report the hilarious showdown to Judy Abrahamson and Sophia Hill, who wrote up the story to submit to Faith Daly who ran it off on the press.

Later that day Bob Turner, head of Turner Construction Company, and Sharron Macklin were looking over the bank vault as a possible means of illegal income. Being suspicious of their great interest in the vault, Dave Saari, the newly appointed deputy, nabbed them both and tossed them into jail. Bob immediately demanded to see his lawyer, Jo Sanborn. While in jail they were surprised to see a fellow alumnus in the next cell. It was, strangely enough, Bob Fife. They inquired as to why Bob was there, only to learn that he was caught borrowing a horse indefinitely. Besides Bob, they also had Cherie Lutka to keep them company. Cherie had a job drawing wanted posters.

At the close of the day all were attracted by the sound of a violin. Those who followed the music came to a barn at the end of the town where Martha Kastberg was playing a hoe-down for a swinging square dance and was being accompanied by Francis Dacri on the piano. Those who were there from the class of '63 did not care for the western ways of dancing, so they did their own. In one corner were Carole Carlson and Roger Young twisting up a storm. In another were Woody May and Ellen Burke doing the mashed potato to the old-fashioned polka music and Paul Demoga and Barbara Taggert doing the chicken scratch. It was not long before everyone grew tired from the hectic day. All the alumni boarded at the hotel, where they were greeted by Judy Roberts, the new hostess. The last to come in for the night were Sharon Hilton, the new French teacher, Joe Kelly, the new history teacher, and Maryhelen Hendrickson, the new English teacher. They had taken over the little school house, attempting to turn the children into twentieth century geniuses. In one of the many rooms occupied by the newcomers to Tucson were Val Pruneau and Stewy McCarthy. Unbelievably Val was giving Stewy a crew-cut, while Janet Bostwick was giving him a manicure. Suddenly there was a terrific blast outside which awoke the whole town. Janet got to the window in time to witness Steve White and Ronnie Blodgett perform a perfect jailbreak, freeing Bob Turner and Sharron Macklin. Finally when all quieted down, everyone turned in for a well-earned sleep.

The next morning Ernest Fancy woke everyone up when he decided to sweep the rooms. Most of the class went to the hotel dining room to eat breakfast. Bob Lehman, the waiter, took orders while Dave DuVarney slaved over the hot stove in the kitchen. After all had eaten, John DiPilato, the dishbreaker, came around to pick up the dirty dishes.

Later a few of the girls went down the street to see how they made horseshoes at the blacksmith's. On the way they were nearly hit by Jay Lamoureaux and Joe Finneran who were having a drag in their new, souped-up buckboards. Out of breath, the girls finally reached the shop, only to see Steve Welus rigging up a hot-rod to show off to his new cowboy friends. Standing over the coal pit were Gail Vickery and Wendy Howard, blowing into the coals, while Bob Uljua melted iron. Gail and Wendy, they found out, hadn't volunteered for that job, but since the bellows were broken, they were forced into it. Al Rotti, who found himself a job as a buckboard driver, was offering his services, so the girls readily decided to take a jaunt to the country. As Al isn't a slow driver, they reached the country in no time, and so decided to stop for a friendly visit at a nearby farmhouse. There they came across Jane Johnson and Meredith Doe, who were milking cows for enjoyment, and Marjorie Spidel, who was cleaning house for the farmer's wife. There they also met Janet Kelley and Johanna Kulis who were picking rare herbs to take home and use in their pharmacies back home. They all sat around the table, drinking coffee and chatting, and started thinking about W.B. and realized how much they missed it. Then they decided to round up the rest of the class and try to find a way back to 1973. Once back in Tucson they sent Ron Robinson and Don Roselund running around, gathering the alumni.

Soon the whole class had gathered except for Carlene Hebert, who refused to come because she had eloped with a cowpoke. Meanwhile Warren Zepp and Doug Fuller fixed the time machine, but there was one catch—someone must stay behind to set off the spark. Barb Huke and Sharon LaBaire volunteered to sacrifice their journey home. Thus we all piled in and Barb and Sharon set off the spark and away we went. With great expectations we flew ahead in time. After a long tiresome journey we finally arrived safely at Danna's. All were anxious to get out, but not so anxious as Kathy Brosnahan and Cynthia Ducharme, who knocked us all down. They couldn't wait to get their hands on the two who had tricked us into this test flight.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1963, being of superiot minds and charming personalities, do hereby brilliantly and kindly bestow this document upon the poor and insignificant underclassmen as our last will and testament.

SECTION I

1. To the "Now we can run the school" Juniors, we leave the position vacated by the brilliant Senior Class.

2. To the "What would the school do without us?" Sophomores, we bequeath our great gift of wit to see them safely through the crises of the next two years.

3. To the adolescent Freshman Class, we leave our mature reasoning and the holy atmosphere we created.

4. To the "Now we'll have real homework" incoming Freshmen, we leave all available information—such as trots, old homework assignments, research papers, notes, and tests, so that they may be able to "do on the spot" homework assignments, as we did.

SECTION II

1. To Mr. LaPrade we leave our appreciation and sincere thanks.

2. To the "Now we're rid of them" faculty we gratefully give our most sincere and heartful thanks for all that they have done.

SECTION III

1. Judy Abrahamson leaves her friendly and quiet ways to the quarrelling underclassmen.

2. Barbara "Let me show you" Andreasen leaves her pile of books to Noreen "What are they for?" Gardner.

3. Karen "Bugs" Buguskas leaves with a hop and a hope.

4. Dave "Garhyug" Blake leaves his horse laugh to the first horse that comes along.

5. Ronald "How about a game of pool?" Blodgett leaves his cue stick to Nick "Which end do I use?" Spiro.

6. Janet "Gee Whiz" Bostwick leaves her happy-go-lucky attitude to Louise "What's so funny" Knapp.

7. Pat "Doesn't anyone understand Me" Brigham leaves with no comment.

8. Kathleen "Oh I didn't know that" Brosnahan leaves her quiet ways to John "What's everybody laughing about" Geneva.

9. Ellen "Let's dance" Burke leaves her dancing ability to Larry "Which is my right foot, anyhow?" Leger.

10. Carole "Who me?" Carlson leaves her twinkling brown eyes to any underclass girl who wants to shine.

11. Gerry "Hi!" Cheever leaves an ashtray in the boys' room for next year's Seniors.

12. Franny "Topcat" Dacri leaves his talent on the piano to Karen Kelly who can use it.

13. Faith "Oh yeah?" Daly leaves her beautiful black hair to Mary "Well I like it this way" Navaroli.

14. John "I'm bashful" Decrow leaves his quiet manner to Everet "I'm not!" Lepore.

15. Paul "Yes, Barbara" Demoga leaves his lashes to Joe "I'M the independent type" Chase.

16. Anne "I can't do that" Dionne leaves her ability to fix cars to Karen "Don't get excited" Edwards.

17. John "I love cars" DiPilato leaves with a squeal of tires in a cloud of dust.

18. Meredith "I won't have my hair cut" Doe leaves with her pony tail.

19. Cynthia "I do what I want to do" Ducharme leaves the school to anyone who wants it.

20. Dave DuVarney leaves his reputation as an "ace baby-sitter" to any girl who thinks she can fill his shoes.

21. Jon "Eh" Ekblom leaves his teachers wondering "Does he or doesn't he?" Only his barber knows for sure.

22. Lee "How do I know" Erickson leaves her naturally blond hair to Laura "It wasn't always this way" Kriegstrom.

23. Carl "I don't know where I'm supposed to be" Fallavollita leaves next year's Seniors a map of the Senior high wing.

24. Ernie "Fance" Fancy happily leaves his broom to Nick Geneva.

25. Bob "Say" Fife leaves his history notes to Mr. Case to use for his next year's class. Why don't you have a pencil, Bob?

26. Joe "Hey" Finneran leaves his absentee record to any underclassman who thinks he can equal it.

27. Raymond "Raymio" Fortin leaves his blond curls to Jean "What do I want them for?" Nash.

28. Ethel "Hey, Cindy" Foster leaves with a mad dash for the nearest exit.

29. Doug "Small but mighty" Fuller leaves his pint size to Ron "Tall and flighty" Markowitz.

30. Danna "Ah for gosh sakes" Gates leaves her blue-grey hair to Barbara "It's better than green" Nolan.

31. Jonathan "Hack" Hager leaves with a Swedish-Indian scream.

32. Carlene "Watch out, girls" Hebert leaves her love for "Family Living" to any unsuspecting Junior girl who might get into that class by accident or false information.

33. Maryhelen "But it's all one name" Hendrickson leaves her studious ways to Donny "I can do without them" Miller.

34. Sophia "How do you pronounce that?" Hill leaves with many well earned friends.

35. Sharon "Oh gosh" Hilton leaves her personality and brains to the Sophomore "We've got them somewhere" Class.

36. Joan "Do you think it's broken?" Howard leaves with her toe in a cast.

37. Wendy "Actually" Howard leaves her ability to play Chess to John "Chess?" Bancroft.

38. Richard "Hey, you got your homework done?" Hughes leaves his ability to copy homework to Hank "What's homework?" McCarthy.

39. Barbara "Really, I was sick" Huke leaves her jazz appreciation behind.

40. Sandra "I've got an idea" Hyde leaves Linda "I'll do a good job" Putnam to carry them out.

41. Jane "I don't know" Johnson leaves her mischievousness to Lee "who me?" Warren in hopes that it will be put to good use.

42. Martha "Those Trig problems weren't hard" Kastberg leaves her math ability to Bruce "How much did you say 8 times 7 was?" Fisher.

43. Janet "Mr. Elkind" Kelley leaves him wondering what was so funny.

44. Joe Kelly leaves Miss Scopeletti slightly insane.

45. Joanne "Boo" Kulis leaves her Chemistry ability to anyone who feels that he needs it.

46. Sharon "Oh really" LaBaire leaves her long fingernails to all future typists.

47. Jay "You mean I made it?" Lamoureaux leaves the faculty in peace if not in pieces.

48. Bob "I don't need 'em" Lehman leaves his philosophy on girls to Bob "I can't do without 'em" Benedict.

49. Cherie "What am I going to do?" Lutka leaves her beautiful complexion to Francis "I'm an Ivory boy" Casamassa.

50. Sharron "Sam" Macklin leaves her "No Doz" pills to anyone who wants to get ahead.

51. Susan "I'm getting silly now" Maddocks leaves her reputation as a party hostess to Karen "Let's have a party at your house" Lee to fulfill.

52. Richard "Chet the Jet" Magdziarz leaves his height to Terry "Mousey" Mulryan.

53. Forest "Did you see that?" May leaves to sing "Anchors Aweigh" for the summer.

54. Stu "Happy-go-lucky" McCarthy leaves before the teachers change their minds.

55. Wayne "Wake me when it's over" McGuiggan leaves his daydreaming ability to Carl "I don't have time to rest" Dupre.

56. Earl Merrill leaves the faculty still baffled by his handwriting.

57. Michael J. Mulryan Jr. Esq. leaves his rake to John McCormack.

58. Norma "Oh you didn't" Newcomb leaves still puzzled by Mr. Case's psychology lectures.

59. Diane "I work at the I.G.A." Nolan leaves her unwrapped meat to Jane "I'll wrap it" Tipton.

60. John "Did You?" Pasquale leaves a well polished halo to Frank "that's the only way I'll get one" Lovell.

61. John "Pete" Peterson leaves his baseball glove to Carl "Flash" Dupre.

62. Peter "Don't bother me" Petro leaves his ability to fall asleep in class to Donald "I don't need any help" Miller.

63. Val "Everybody loves me" Pruneau leaves his charming manner to Terry "I'm sure the girls love me just the way I am" Kennedy.

64. Judith "I can't help it" Roberts leaves her flirtatious eyes to Janet "so what if I can't see" Howe.

65. Ronnie "Bucketts" Robinson leaves his yearbook problems to those "know it all" Juniors.

66. Tom "Jizz" Rogers leaves Mr. Wehrli hoarse from yelling at him.

67. Don "Kanuck" Roseberry leaves his water machine in the trophy case.

68. Don "Squirt" Roselund leaves his track shoes to Dave Lindberg in hopes of future W.B. victories.

69. Alfred "Hey, you guys" Rotti leaves Mr. Gaumond wondering why he has so many friends in study hall.

70. David "I love to run" Saari leaves his speed on the track team to Bruce "Height doesn't matter" Ahlquist.

71. Joyce "Sabu" Sabulis leaves her deep green eyes to Helen "So what if you can't see mine?" DeMarco.

72. Linda "Hey listen, girls" St. Denis leaves Mrs. Rogers wondering what makes her tick.

73. Jo "I can do it" Sanborn leaves her dimples to John "I don't need them" Carlson.

74. Sue "Oh, hi!" Schlicker leaves her quiet ways to Wendy "Let's have a little excitement" Maki.

75. Tom "Want to make a bet?" Sheldon leaves the school winning that bet.

76. Cheryl "That's not so" Sibley leaves her height to Sandy "I like it this way" Cummings.

77. Majorie "Why ask me?" Spidle leaves her warm smile and cheerful personality to the faculty.

ACTIVITIES

May 4, 1962

Our entire class turned out for the preparations of the Junior Prom "Bali Hai."

We worked hard transforming the school gymnasium . . .

. . . to a South Sea island.

Barbara Nowak, the senior class president, led the Grand March . . .

Alberta Saari was crowned queen by Mr. LaPrade . . .

. . . and Arlene Wright, Maureen Macklin, Carol Schonbeck, and Diane Souza made up her court.

After dancing until midnight, everyone bid our island farewell and left with the song "Bali Hai" on his lips.

"Harvest

On November 21, 1962, the Class of 1963 presented its Senior Ball, "Harvest Moon," on the autumn motif.

The senior hostesses were Faith Daly, Pauline Warren, Joan Howard and Norma Newcomb.

Everyone had a warm "hello" for the chaperones in reception line.

Moon"

The gaiety was increased by the bright and cheerful music of the Commodores.

Sharron Macklin and Robert Turner, our class president, led the Grand March.

Jane DeWitt, escorted by Burton Quist, was chosen queen. Her court and their escorts were Virginia Knox and Kenneth Quist, Patricia Brigham and Carl Fallavollita, Avis WelBurn and Robert Uljua, and JoAnn Sanborn and Joseph Kelly.

"Harvest Moon" continued 'til Midnight. Then most of couples went to the Paxton Inn to top off the enchanted evening with a delicious dinner.

Clark Tournament Runner-up Trophy.

The 1962-63 basketball team, piloted by seniors Joe Kelly and Ron Robinson, enjoyed a fine season. It's record was 15 wins against only 7 losses. The club placed third in league competition because five of the seven losses came in league games. They reached the finals in the large school division of the Clark Tournament but were nipped by David Prouty of Spencer 66-55 after getting by Bartlett of Webster and a strong Auburn team. Other seniors on this year's team were Don Roselund, Dick Magdriaz, and Ken Quist.

CLASS OFFICERS

Terry Kennedy, President
Alberta Longone, Vice President
Virginia Knox, Secretary
Sandra Cummings, Treasurer

Our junior year has been the busiest and most exciting of our high school years. In order to raise money for our prom, we conducted a profitable candy sale and traditionally took charge of the concession stand at basketball games. Our prom was called "Volare" with a Roman theme. The chairmen were our officers, and Jean Nash, Janet Howe, and Karen Kelly.

The class expresses special gratitude to its advisors—Mr. Griffin, Mr. Case, Mrs. Osborne and Mr. Smalanskas for their active interest in our affairs.

It's always open house in Mrs. Osborne's class.

Shirley Knox, Treasurer

We started off our sophomore year with the now traditional campaigns for class officers. After elections, in October, one of our classmates, Leon Dionne, was hurt in gym class. A benefit basketball game was held for him, and the sophomore class sold tickets. The game brought in approximately $400, half of which was collected by our class.

In the athletic field we were proud to have four sophomores on the varsity basketball team—John Bancroft, Dave Lindberg, Steve Lacilla, and Curt Backstrom. Three girls graced the cheerleading squad—Nonie Balcom, Shirley Knox, and Kathy Caron.

We are looking forward to our junior year with great anticipation for its upcoming activities.

Our Freshman year has been one of the busiest years of our school life. We had dependable officers who took their duties to heart. Our first dance was Come September; it was a wonderful affair, complete with a festive atmosphere and a back-to-school decor. The Freshman Frolic, our second huge success, went a long way to fill our treasury.

In the past year some of us have had personal highlights:

Barry Lorge, first place winner in the Freshman division of the Science Fair, represented W.B. in the Regional Fair.

Duncan Gullies performed on the accordion at the Home Show.

Judy LaVigne and Robert Wood acted in the Drama Club's One Act Plays.

All in all it has been a great year for us Freshmen!
